NEEO Gold

Prerequisites for the creation of NEEO Gold

Currently, the cryptocurrency market is constantly being replenished with new instruments and it is inevitable that this market is growing strongly. Since a financial instrument such as cryptocurrency has long been present in our lives, people tend to trust cryptocurrencies more. People buy cryptocurrency daily and even earn more trading or keeping it. As an obvious consequence, cryptocurrency began to enter our daily grind. In many countries, cryptocurrencies have already become officially allowed for circulation, for example, in Japan, Switzerland, Singapore, USA, Canada and many others. This list will soon be replenished as soon as the country's authorities are able to determine the terms for regulating the cryptocurrency market.

There are many different cryptocurrencies on the market now, but unfortunately, there are not many that can be truly trusted. The thing is that there are some projects that reduce the level of trust in the cryptocurrency in general, since they set unrealistic goals and, of course, do not reach them when it is time to report to investors. The fact that cryptocurrency creators need to timely and transparently confirm their results to investors is an excellent marker of a cryptocurrency's quality. Worthwhile projects are motivated by the necessity to show results on time in order to attract new investors and convince current investors of the correct decisions.

Taking into account all the above factors, the NEEO company decided to create its own token, which is called NEEO Gold, because the market now needs stable cryptocurrencies, which are confirmed by effective actions, real experience and real achievements more than ever.

We are happy to be the creators of NEEO Gold - a new reliable cryptocurrency, the credibility of which is reinforced by the many successes of the NEEO project.

The NEEO project

The idea of the NEEO project was born years ago. In 2014, the creators of the project decided to create a whole system of convenient applications that will help the user in different areas of life: study, work or leisure. These applications include games, instant messengers, a cryptocurrency wallet and an exchange.

Applications of the NEEO ecosystem

NEEO MESSENGER

(Released on July 3, 2014)

The first application created by NEEO was a messenger with a built-in multilingual system that translates messages into over 100 different languages. For several years, the application has gone through many stages of improvements, and now, with its help, thousands of users around the world can get acquainted and communicate without knowing each other's native language. One of the main achievements of the developers was the creation of a high-quality algorithm that almost instantly translates not just words, but whole phrases, replicas of dialogues. Also the developers came up with an idea of how to create a module for translating audio messages, since now people more often use this method of communication in instant messengers.

NEEO PLAY

(Released on March 17, 2019)

In 2019, the next step was the implementation of one of the main ideas of the NEEO project - the introduction of cryptocurrency into the application. The pilot project was the development of a game for mobile devices NEEO Play. Passing interesting, and in some places difficult, mini-games, the user received special keys for completing the steps of the game. After passing the step, the user received a key that could be sent to a friend or sold on a special exchange for NEEO cryptocurrency tokens. Later, they could be withdrawn to your cryptocurrency account. The creators of the application have made the dream of "play and earn" a reality! After the successful creation of NEEO Play, the cryptocurrency has been integrated into all of the following platform applications.

NEEO Social

(Released on July 3, 2014)

The NEEO Social app is a full-fledged social network where you can chat with friends, share moments of your life, like and leave comments. Users can earn income in NEEO tokens for the popularity of the content they publish. Also, an advertising option is implemented in this social network: an advertiser can pay for several ads with NEEO tokens, which will give a chance to significantly expand the audience.

NEEO PLAY E

(Released on July 3, 2014)

NEEO Play E is a mobile game with a hero, already beloved by players, whose name is Neeo. You can earn ETH cryptocurrency with his help in this game! When another user activates the game key, the user receives ETH. Then, all the funds received can be easily withdrawn to a cryptocurrency wallet or exchanged for another fiduciary currency.

NEEO SELL & BUY

(Released on July 3, 2014)

At first glance, the NEEO Sell & Buy marketplace is a classic platform where sellers and buyers can meet. However, all user interaction on this platform is based on a smart contract system, which reduces the risk of fraud to a minimum level. Each customer on the platform is shown only the most relevant offers based on the preferences. Thus, the user can quickly and effortlessly find and buy the desired product. All payments in the application are made using NEEO tokens, which greatly simplifies the process of paying for goods - no extra currency conversions are required.

NEEO WALLET

(Released on July 3, 2014)

A necessary application in this system is the recently created, but already quite popular cryptocurrency wallet and exchanger NEEO Wallet. The application simplifies many cryptocurrency transactions and has Russian, English, Arabic, Korean and other languages versions. The design of the application speaks for itself - nothing redundant, only the most necessary functions that no owner of a cryptocurrency can do without: buying, selling, exchanging, as well as purchasing additional goods and services for cryptocurrency.

NEEO TAXI

(Released on July 3, 2014)

The last application launched was NEEO Taxi - a system to search for a taxi: the driver who accepts the order arrives and takes the user to the desired place. The application quickly builds the optimal route taking into account the traffic situation, calculates the cost of the trip, which can be paid in any convenient way, and soon the option to pay with NEEO tokens will also be added. Getting around the city with NEEO Taxi is now even easier - you just need a smartphone with the app installed!

NEEO Gold

This is only a part of the NEEO platform projects!

More information about all NEEO projects can be found at neeoico.com.

Since the project has grown and developed significantly, there are a lot of applications within the NEEO platform, and there are at least three more serious projects planned to be released in the nearest future that are being prepared for launch. The users of the products of the NEEO system has already become very wide and multinational, because the necessary and useful applications are created in order to be shared and told about them. As a result, more and more people are using the applications created within the framework of the project up to the present day!

Achievements of the NEEO project:

- NEEO Messenger has over 1 million downloads in the Play Market
- Users play the game NEEO Play on almost all continents of the world
- NEEO Social is used by many users as well as companies to promote products and attract new audiences
- NEEO Wallet allows you to exchange cryptocurrencies directly in your wallet with a minimum commission
- NEEO Taxi greatly simplifies the process of moving around the city, since you can call a taxi with it with only one button.

Like any stable business, the NEEO project needs growth and development in order to satisfy users' needs by creating convenient applications for them. That is why the creators of the project are launching an investment campaign and issuing their own NEEO Gold token! All attracted investments will be directed to the development of the company's projects. This will help to expand the functionality of existing projects and create new useful projects.

In 2020, the NEEO project team decided that NEEO should finally become a public company! This is a necessary step in order to later develop more applications and expand the reach of the NEEO ecosystem. Going to an IPO will provide many benefits for both the company and the application users interested in the success and development of NEEO's products.

By buying the NEEO Gold token, you can be sure that you are investing in the development of a stable and large-scale company that will continue to grow!

NEEO Gold

What is NEEO Gold and why is it worth buying?

The NEEO Gold (NGA) cryptocurrency was created to help IPO projects in the NEEO ecosystem. To implement such a complex task, we need to create an investment flow by selling our NGA cryptocurrency. We truly do appreciate the users of our applications, so those people who take part in the development of the project and in its IPO will certainly be generously rewarded in gratitude from the creators of the project. After all, it is these people who will be able to help the NEEO company to expand, become even better and more successful!

That is why the NEEO team has come up with a number of opportunities for all NGA buyers that will help its owners earn money or increase their capital. This can be done in the following ways:

Get cashback in NGA cryptocurrency for transactions in NEEO Wallet

Exchange NEEO Gold for NEEO shares after the company's successful IPO

Earn on NEEO Gold purchase and sale transactions on the stock exchange

All three ways to make money on the purchase of NEEO Gold will be described further in detail, and most importantly, the ways to benefit from owning a this cryptocurrency will be highlighted.

NEEO Gold

1. Possibility to exchange NEEO Gold for NEEO shares after the IPO of NEEO

After the NEEO project goes public, each NEEO Gold token holder will have a unique opportunity to earn money with NEEO. By cooperating with the owners of NEEO Gold, the company will be able to realize its potential and finally gain a foothold in the market.

How to make money after exchanging NGA tokens for NEEO shares?

Every NGA holder will be able to exchange this cryptocurrency for real shares of the company as soon as the IPO is completed. Then, owning the company's shares, it will be possible to perform brokerage operations with them to make money on price fluctuations or use them as a long-term asset, because every year the company's share price will only increase!

This will provide a broad spectrum of opportunities to earn money for any NEEO Gold owner!

2. The possibility to make money by buying and selling NEEO Gold on the exchange

As part of the IPO campaign, NEEO Gold will be gradually listed on well-known major exchanges during the first year from the date of its release. It was decided that the starting price of NEEO Gold on the exchange would be only $40. In the future, under the impact of various economic events, the growth of the NEEO company and the number of purchased tokens, the price of the cryptocurrency may change.

How to make money on buying and selling NGA?

If the owner of NEEO Gold closely monitors changes in the price of the cryptocurrency, then it will be possible to earn money on the difference in price. For instance, we expect that after the start of the NGA listing on exchanges, the price of the cryptocurrency may rise significantly, which means that it can be sold for a lot more than the initial purchase price!

NEEO Gold

3. Possibility to receive NEEO Gold cashback in NEEO Wallet

NEEO Wallet is a cryptocurrency wallet where you can make quick exchanges of a large number of ERC-20 tokens and various cryptocurrencies with minimal fees. In this application, you can store cryptocurrency, exchange it with other users through a special P2P exchanger, and create your own BEEC cryptocurrency alloys. The main advantages of this cryptocurrency wallet are the security and user-friendliness of the interface.

Safety

Security is guaranteed by using special private keys that cannot be stolen and, as a result, your wallet cannot be hacked. This technology is the guarantor of the security of all transactions that are carried out in NEEO Wallet.

Convenient interface

The interface of the NEEO Wallet application was created in such a way that both a novice investor and an experienced broker could quickly learn how to use the application and start reaching the main objective - exchanging and storing cryptocurrencies!

Cashback

Every time you make an exchange in NEEO Wallet, you can get cashback in NEEO Gold cryptocurrency, which will be automatically credited to your account if several conditions are met:

1. The NEEO Gold (NGA) token must already be added to your token list.
2. At least 1 NEEO Gold coin must already be in your account.
